

The Federal Communications Commission
445 12th Street, SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I have read the wording concerning the Fair Share Plan. Fair Share should mean those words, and, actually, it does not. First, the issue of this Plan is an increase in cost. I believe American consumers and American corporations are in need of a big break from government continually searching for methods to increase money into government pockets. America would be better served and more competitive with the changing world if government would reduce its size and be the Public Servants it was intended to be by the Founding Fathers. Recall, the reason for the Revolution.

cc: Marlene Dortch, Secretary

Sincerely,

Otis Sanders
2699 Homestead Circle
North Port, Florida 34286